INTRODUCTION TO NONVIOLENT COMMUNICATION

Facilitator: François Beausoleil

June 13th, 2008 (Friday): 7:00-9:00 pm

In this interactive workshop you will learn the basics of Nonviolent Communication (NVC), a powerful method used around the world to resolve conflicts and to develop inner peace. The NVC process is designed to create a quality of connection among people in which everyone's needs are equally valued.

THE ABCS OF EMPOWERING COMMUNICATION

Facilitator: François Beausoleil

June 14th and 15th, 2008 (Saturday and Sunday): 9:30 am - 5:00 pm

In the ABCs of Empowering Communication, we dive into the mechanics of communication with self and others, viewed through the lens of Marshall Rosenberg's Nonviolent Communication. Participants receive a clear map and concrete directions for finding relief and peace of mind around specific communication challenges. We request that those without prior training in NVC attend the Friday evening introductory workshop before attending.

THERE WILL BE A $25 EARLY BIRD DISCOUNT FOR ALL THOSE WHO REGISTER BY MAY 1ST!

About the facilitator: François Beausoleil has been teaching Nonviolent Communication in communities since 2004. A graduate of the NVC Leadership Program offered by the San Francisco Bay Area Nonviolent Communication (BayNVC) organization, he now works for BayNVC as a trainer and program coordinator. Currently he is also directing a year-long training program for a social service agency in California.

Registration: Open until June 2, 2008
*Space is limited, and this workshop will definitely fill up,
So register early to reserve your place.*
